South Suburban's Harlow Tennis Courts

Now Set for Play after Resurfacing

South Suburban Park and Recreation District's Harlow Tennis Courts were recently resurfaced and are back in use. The four courts are predominately used by recreational tennis players. The courts also are home to South Suburban's Tennis and Splash Camps, in which youth learn stroke production, footwork, court etiquette and how to play the sport. An hour on the tennis court is followed by a cool dip in the adjacent Harlow Pool.

Harlow Tennis Courts are located in Harlow Park, 5151 S. Lowell Blvd., Littleton, and are open to the public, free of charge, and are available on a first come, first served basis. South Suburban maintains 56 courts throughout the District, including the six indoor courts at Littleton Tennis Center.
