South Suburban's Teen Acting Troup to Delight Young Audiences with Four Free Performances of The Dinosaur Play

Join South Suburban's Teen Acting Troup for a free performance of The Dinosaur Play in four South Suburban parks, beginning Tues., June 17. The show is a fanciful tale, set millions of years ago, and will appeal to young children and families. Bring a blanket and lawn chairs.

The Performance Schedule and Park Locations:

Tues., June 17, 10 am, Little Dry Creek Park, 6389 S. Clermont Court, Centennial

Wed., June 18, 10 am, Puma Park, 7900 S. Ogden Way, Centennial

Thurs., June 19, 10 am, Gallup Gardens, 6015 S. Gallup St., Littleton

Fri., June 20, 7 pm, Walnut Hills Elementary Amphitheater, 8443 E. Davies Ave., Centennial

Sponsored in part by the Scientific & Cultural Facilities District. For more information about South Suburban's performing arts classes and programs, visit www.sspr.org or call 303-730-4612.
