South Suburban Recreation Centers feature Local Artists in October

South Suburban Parks and Recreation's Douglas A. Buck, Goodson and Lone Tree Recreation Centers are featuring temporary art exhibitions by local artists during the month of October.

Karen Trenchard is presenting her photographs of Colorado locations October 1-30, 2013 at Lone Tree Recreation Center at 10249 Ridgeway Circle, Lone Tree, 303-708-3500. It is said a photograph/picture is worth a thousand words, so if you love Colorado and Denver, her photographs will speak volumes to you.

Amy Van Stensel's work will be shown October 1-30, 2013 at Goodson Recreation Center, located at 6315 S. University Blvd., Centennial, 303-798-2476. Amy specializes in illustrations and oil paintings botanical in nature. Her work is exquisite as the attention to detail and the likeness to real plants are amazing. Take a walk indoors this fall and soak in the beauty of a botanical garden at Goodson Recreation Center.

Darlene Kuhne's artwork will be shown October 1-30, 2013 at Douglas A. Buck Recreation Center, 2004 W. Powers Ave., Littleton, 303-797-8787. She is a colorist and an abstract expressionist painter, who composes her acrylic paintings with design and composition in mind. The viewer's eye follows the path of the lines, shapes and colors to take a journey around the painting. You will certainly be treated to an adventure in painting.

South Suburban's Public Art Committee encourages Colorado artists to submit an application to display their artwork on a temporary basis at various South Suburban recreation facilities. For a complete list of guidelines and an art exhibition application, please visit www.sspr.org or contact Vickie Willis at 303-483-7072.
